BAD BLIZZARD HITS COMMUNITY ON THURSDAY

ROADS ARE ICE COVERED AND SNOWFALL TOTALED CLOSE TO EIGHT INCHES

Putnam County's summer weather which has prevailed for the past month, came to a sudden end on Thursday when one of the worst blizzards of the winter hit the entire section of the state.

A brisk wind whipped a heavy snowfall from the north and west and it was estimated from six to eight inches of snow blanketed the ground by nightfall.

The snowfall continued well into the night, but the greater part fell during the late afternoon and early evening. During the night the light snowfall turned to rain, but it did not continue and traffic was somewhat better Friday than Thursday, when all traffic was moving slowly.

State and county highway crews were kept busy throughout the night using snow removing equipment and they reported most if not all of the highways open on Friday.

By United Press

The season's most severe snowstorm, carried on winds ranging in velocity up to 50 miles an hour, moved east past the Great Lakes region today and threatened to tie up the New England and Eastern Seaboard states during the weekend.

The snowfall, which reached 10 inches in some parts of the central states region, diminished in that area, but swept the Ohio valley and started to blanket Pennsylvania and upstate New York.

A cold wave which will reach its greatest intensity tonight moved in the wake of the snow in the Central states and Bismarck, N. D., the coldest spot of the nation, reported 26 degrees below zero with the temperature still dropping and expected to reach 30 below. Minot, N. D., reported 23 below and Ashley, N. D., 24.

The greatest 24-hour snowfall was recorded at the army air base at Chanute Field, Ill., where 10 inches fell and drifted into banks as deep as 10 feet. Peoria, Ill., had eight inches and Chicago, Springfield, Ill., Fort Wayne, Ind., some parts of Iowa and Nebraska, had six inches.

Oklahoma City's two inches of snow was carried by a 50-mile an hour gale, and Dodge City had winds up to 42 miles an hour. Throughout the snow-blanketed region, winds of 30 to 35 miles an hour were reported. The coldest point in the east was Caribou, Me., where the mercury dropped to 18 degrees below zero and the temperature was not expected to rise until the snowfall arrived Saturday night or Sunday.

Robert Jeffries Rites Saturday

Robert D. Jeffries, 93-year-old retired farmer, died at his home at Crawfordsville Thursday morning. In ill health for the past seven years Mr. Jeffries had been in critical condition for the past 10 days. Death was due to a complication of ailments.

He was born January 19, 1851, in Putnam county, the son of Harvey and Matilda Jeffries and on February 8, 1874, was married to Harriett Ballard of Roachdale. Mrs. Jeffries died in 1919. Mr. Jeffries was a member of the First Methodist church and of the Masonic lodge of Alamo.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. William White of Alamo and Mrs. Clayton Elmore of Crawfordsville; 11 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Nannie Steward of Roachdale and Mrs. Kate Higgins of Danville.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in charge of Rev. C. Howard Taylor. Burial will be in the Roachdale cemetery.

FOOD SUBSIDY SEEMS DOOMED IN U. S. SENATE

FAVOR BILL PERMITTING INCREASE IN RETAIL PRICES OF VARIOUS ITEMS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(UP)—The Senate, working under a limited debate agreement, prepared to sound a death sentence today to the administration's food subsidy program by passing a bill permitting increases in the retail prices of milk, bread, meat and other important foods.

Conceding defeat, administration Senators said they would make no further attempt to salvage the subsidy program but would renew the fight if and when President Roosevelt vetoed the anti-subsidy bill and sent the whole controversial issue right back to congress.

Mr. Roosevelt vetoed a similar anti-subsidy bill last year and subsidy opponents then were unable to muster up the required two-thirds majority to override him. Administration forces hoped the same thing would happen again.

Before taking the final vote and sending the measure back to the strongly anti-subsidy house, the senate faced a showdown on a number of amendments, including one to subsidize low-income groups by giving them direct aid in form of food allotment stamps—like the ones issued in the depression years.

The anti-subsidy provision was contained in a bill by Sen. John H. Bankhead, D., Ala., to extend the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation. It would permit limited use of subsidies on domestic sugar, vegetable oils, domestic wool, sugar beets, wheat for feed, and conservation payments.

"THERE IS A WAR"

A small girl Scout, probably nine years old, and quite small for her age, gave a realistic object lesson of devotion to duty during the snow storm Thursday afternoon that many adults could follow to advantage, and thus help our home-front war effort.

The Girl Scouts are making paper bags and napkins for the county hospital. About 1,000 each are used a week, and it keeps them busy meeting the demand.

If older persons would take a tip from this youngster, there would be no vacant seats at surgical dressing classes or in other home-front war efforts.

In the midst of the blizzard late Thursday this child with her sled and wagon, loaded with paper bags, delivered them to their destination. On being asked if it was necessary for her to make the delivery at the time, the child said:

"You know there is a war and we have to do what we can to do our part, whatever it is and in spite of how we feel or the condition of the weather."

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Skelton, Fillmore Route 1, are the parents of a daughter born Friday morning at the Putnam county hospital.

4-F BUT TOUGH

Four Scott Field, Ill., soldiers have a new respect for at least one of the 4-F's they left behind. The four approached Ed Taylor, above, and asked why he wasn't in uniform. He told them and they began to sing a lusty song about 4-F's. That did it. Taylor knocked two of them unconscious and the other two had fled. "I just got mad," he said. One of those kayoed by Taylor was an amateur boxer who had won his last 28 fights before he met 4-F Taylor. (International)

V-5 Cadet Was Bombed By Japs

Ray Larson, now a cadet at the DePauw University naval flight preparatory school, is one of relatively few Americans bombed by the Japs on December 7, 1941. As a V-5 aviation cadet he is in training to get a chance to return that bombing.

Larson went with his parents to China at the age of six months and returned to the United States aboard the Gripsholm on August 25, 1942, in time to complete his senior year of high school in the United States.

His father was stationed at Hongkong on December 7, 1941, an official for the Socony-Vacuum Company. Hongkong, like Pearl Harbor, underwent heavy bombing on the first day of the war.

During the years in China, Larson lived in Canton, Shanghai, Fochow, and several other towns along the southeastern coast in addition to Hongkong. He began Tarnac training in the navy approximately one year after returning from the Orient.

AUSSIES JOIN AMERICANS IN SAIDOR SECTOR

JUNCTION OPENS WAY FOR GROUND OFFENSIVE IN NEW GUINEA AREA

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NEW GUINEA, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Australian jungle fighters have joined American forces in the Saidor coastal area of the Huon Peninsula. It was announced today, thus opening the way for a ground offensive against Japan's last three major bases in northern New Guinea.

The junction of the two forces 14 miles east of Saidor gave the Allies complete control of the Peninsula after an 18-week campaign during which "the great bulk" of a Japanese force of 14,000 men was destroyed, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique said.

The American force, which landed at Saidor Jan. 2 in a surprise thrust, has advanced 10 miles to the west of Saidor, which is only 43 miles from Bogadjim, protecting outpost for the Japanese base at Madang, on the coast only 55 miles from Saidor.

Another Australian force in the Ramu valley was 16 miles south of Bogadjim, thus making a two-pronged thrust against Bogadjim and Madang, and against Wewak, 206 miles north of Madang, possible.

During the Australians' advance up the coast after the capture of Finschhafen Oct. 2, one Japanese reinforced division, trapped along the coast with its supply and communication lines cut and with its way to the south blocked by almost impassable mountain ranges and the Australians in the Ramu valley, was "gradually destroyed", the communique said.

Officers Elected At Farm Sessions

Officers for the coming year were elected at two farm institute sessions held this week in Putnam county. There were more than 100 in attendance at the Washington township meeting held Tuesday in the Reelsville school building and approximately 284 were present for the all-day program of the Marion township institute held at Fillmore on Wednesday.

Attractive premiums were offered at both places and many exhibits were entered.

Officers for Washington township are: President-David Houck; Vice-President-Phillip Hutcheson; Secretary, Cretia Boone, and Treasurer, Mrs. Mary L. Boyd.

For Marion township the officers chosen are: President, Herschel Knetzer; Vice President, Mr. Kiger; Secretary, Joan Arnold, and Treasurer, Lillian Buis.

TRAPPED NAZI DIVISIONS FACE RUSS ARTILLERY

RED GUNS BEGIN FINAL ANNIHILATION OF GERMANS IN CHERKASI POCKET

MOSCOW, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Russian guns, lined up hub to hub all around the perimeter, began the final annihilation of the remnants of 10 encircled German divisions in the Cherkasi pocket today and front dispatches said the slaughter was expected to make even Stalingrad pale by comparison.

New advances brought the 1st and 2nd Ukrainian armies to within 10 miles north and south of the center of the 250-square-mile pocket and every foot of it rocked under the rain of steel and explosives from the massed Soviet artillery.

All signs indicated that the enemy's final collapse in the pocket was not far off.

The few German prisoners reaching Soviet lines reported demoralization in the Nazi ranks was growing daily. One prisoner was released by the Russians and returned soon afterward with 20 more Germans who had had enough.

Russian infantry and tanks slashed into the flanks of the doomed pocket at every lull in the barrage and looped away new chunks of territory, killing virtually all Germans found in a no-quarter battle.

Red armies also reported new gains on the approaches to the iron center of Krivoi Rog deep in the Dnieper bulge and on the northwestern front, where Soviet forces pushed to within seven miles of Lugansk, key front on the Leningrad-Pskov railway, in an encirclement drive.

Gen. Nikolai F. Vatutin's 1st Ukrainian army stormed to within 10 (Continued on Page Two)

Yank In Italy Discusses Bonds

Even though Putnam County has reached its quota in the fourth war bond drive everyone is asked to buy bonds regularly—not just during a drive. Donald Carrington writes the following letter from Italy telling us just why we must buy and continue to buy bonds:

Dear Sir:

You asked in your V-mail, to me here on the war front, my help in putting your War Bond drive over the million dollar quota. I can think of nothing that would give me great er pleasure than to be able to wave a hundred dollar war bond at an oncoming shell and have that shell make a graceful detour.

Insist that all the townsfolk buy more than they can possibly afford—make them buy until it hurts!

Possibly then we can issue all soldiers who go to the front to do battle to the death a war bond which will save our lives and astound our enemies!

Sincerely yours,
Donald Carrington.

WOMAN'S CLUB WILL OBSERVE 70TH BIRTHDAY

GUEST MEETING AT KAPPA HOUSE PLANNED FOR FEBRUARY 16TH

Wednesday, Feb. 16th, the Woman's Club of Greencastle will celebrate the 70th anniversary of its founding, with a guest meeting at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house at 3 p. m. In addition to personal guests of the club members, invitations have been issued to presidents of local literary clubs, officers and county presidents of the Fifth District, and presidents of all Federated Clubs in Putnam county.

Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren of Writing, president of the Indiana Federation of Clubs, will be the guest speaker. The committee in charge of the program and invitations is composed of Mrs. W. A. Huggard, Mrs. Frank Donner, Mrs. A. C. Northrop and Mrs. Truman G. Yunker. The chairman of the tea committee is Mrs. N. C. O'Hair. Mrs. Clyde E. Wildman, wife of the president of DePauw University, will preside at the tea table.

Officers of the Woman's Club are Mrs. E. R. Bartlett, president; Mrs. G. J. Longden, vice-president; Mrs. T. G. Yunker, secretary; Mrs. Harold T. Ross, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Joe McCord, treasurer. Besides the persons named above other active members include Mrs. C. J. Arnold, Miss Lillian Brownfield, Mrs. Robert Crouch, Mrs. Heber Ellis, Mrs. J. H. Fulmer, Mrs. J. C. Hearst, Mrs. F. W. Hixson, Mrs. David Houck, Mrs. W. M. McGaughey, Miss Jeannette O'Dell, Mrs. James Oliver, Mrs. Henry Ostroon, Mrs. S. R. Rariden, Mrs. O. H. Smith, Mrs. Fred Starr, Mrs. Edward Stevens, Mrs. Simpson Stoner, Mrs. John Tennant, Mrs. F. C. Tilden, Miss Lela Walls, Mrs. J. A. Bamberger and Mrs. Harold Zink.

The Woman's Club was organized Feb. 14th, 1874, with eighteen charter members, among whom were the late Mrs. John R. Miller, Miss Elizabeth Ames and Mrs. Emma Winsor.

Among others honored members of the club was the late Mrs. Grace Beck Maxwell, mother of Philip Maxwell of Chicago, who last Sunday paid a tender and beautiful tribute to his mother in his home town broadcast over WGN.

The Woman's Club is not only the oldest literary club in Greencastle, but is the next to oldest in the entire state, the New Harmony club having been founded first. However, the Woman's Club has a special claim to distinction in that it has continued to meet consecutively for its entire history, while the New Harmony club was discontinued for a time.

PLANE CRASHES IN MISSISSIPPI RIVER; 24 LOST

AIRLINER DISAPPEARS WITHOUT TRACE 15 MILES SOUTH OF MEMPHIS, TENN.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 11.—(UP)—Army engineers located the wreckage of an American Airliner today on the bottom of the Mississippi river 15 miles south of here where it crashed last night, presumably carrying 21 passengers and a crew of three to their deaths.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 11.—(UP)—Army engineers reported today they believed they had seen an American Airliner, carrying 21 passengers and a crew of three, plunge into the Mississippi river 15 miles south of here and disappear without a trace.

Capt. H. K. Holloway, of the army engineers office here, said his men stationed on Cow Island apparently had seen the plane crash. He said he received the report from one of his men on a barge moored to the bank near the scene.

"He may not have seen it go into the river directly, but his attention apparently was called and when he looked around, he thought he saw it go into the river," Holloway said.

Holloway relayed the report to W. J. Weismann, Memphis traffic manager for the airlines. The plane, en route from Little Rock, Ark., to Memphis, was running an hour late when it was last heard from at 11:30 p. m. CWT last night.

Meanwhile, coast guardsmen and civilians searched the Mississippi river bottom for signs of the missing aircraft.

Two picket boats from the Memphis coast guard station, manned by 12 men, were sent to the vicinity of Cow Island. They were keeping in contact with the coast guardsmen here via short wave radio, but early reports from searchers said it was still too dark to make much headway.

Weismann said American Airlines planes were retracing the course of the missing plane. Army and navy planes from the Memphis area were also expected to join in the search. Officials from the Memphis office of the airline were en route to Cow Island and Weismann said other officials were flying from New York.

Army engineers said Cow Island, scene of the apparent crash, is a sand formation in the Mississippi directly on the line of flight from Little Rock to the Memphis airport.

At least 11 of the plane's passengers were members of the armed services. The airlines office in New York said the plane was piloted by Capt. Dale Francis, 39, of Arlington, Tex., First Officer Ray R. Majors, 26, of Springfield, Ill., and Stewardess Dovie May Holybee, Ardmore, Okla., and Fort Worth, Tex., completed the crew.

LATE WAR NEWS

WIPE OUT BY YANKS

ANZIO BEACHHEAD, Italy, Feb. 10.—(Delayed)—(UP)—Fifth Army assault troops, in a hand-grenade attack in the moonlight, wiped out the entire German garrison of a town well within German lines last night and early today.

Sixty Germans were killed—most of them by hand grenades—scores of others were wounded, and nine prisoners were taken before the attackers withdrew according to plan and without interference.

The attack began at 8 p. m. and the town was occupied a half hour later. Two German counterattacks were repulsed easily before midnight and between midnight and 2 a. m. when the attackers withdrew, all was quiet.

ed a break in the cold wave in the midwest Saturday night and said the storm might diminish in intensity before it reaches the Atlantic coast.

Rains which have been falling in the Ohio valley started to turn to snow and western Pennsylvania and northern Ohio had two inches with the storm just getting under way. Light snowfall also was reported west of Albany, N. Y. and several inches of snow were expected there.

The snow blanket which covered the midwest through the Dakotas, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Iowa slowed down highway and rail traffic and forced the cancellation of airlines flights west of Chicago. Schools at Omaha and Lincoln, Neb., were closed and many rural schools suspended operations until the roads were cleared.

BRICKER WOULD ABOLISH STRIKES DURING WAR TIME

OHIO GOVERNOR IN LINCOLN DAY ADDRESS AT U. S. CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Gov. John W. Bricker's Lincoln Day speech proposal for absolute prohibition of war time strikes aroused top interest here today among the issues discussed by the Ohioan in his pre-convention campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

But Bricker's bid for consideration in this political hot spot proved to be a combination of bitter denunciation of the Roosevelt administration and of significantly kind words for Congress. He pegged his appeal on domestic issues, but did propose that the United States "should take her place in a cooperative organization among sovereign nations after this war."

His tactics were in contrast with those of Wendell L. Willkie, Bricker's most active opponent, who occasionally undertakes to shake Congress by the ears, losing more than a few friends thereby.

Bricker challenged "weakness of the New Deal in handling labor relations" and said "a law should be enacted by this Congress laying down fundamental principles for the administration and adjudication of labor disputes and the prohibition of strikes in time of war." He said it was too late now to consider a national service act as proposed by Mr. Roosevelt.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin, R., Mass., introducing Bricker to the Mayflower hotel audience, said it was the largest Republican gathering held here in a dozen years. He predicted victory in this year's elections but said it would not be Republican victory alone.

"Victory will come," he said, "because millions of honest, sincere, patriotic Jeffersonian Democrats will submerge party to the welfare of their country and because independent voters will unite with us."

Chaplin Held On Serious Charge

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Charlie Chaplin dug deep today for $1,000 bond to insure his presence in federal court for what apparently is destined to be the most lurid criminal trial in Hollywood history.

His troubles began when he refused to make red-haired Joan Barry wife number four. She told her story to the federal grand jury, with emphasis on the baby she claims is his, the two abortions she underwent, and her experiences with alleged Peeping Toms in blue coats, whom she charged with undressing her while she languished as a vagrant in Beverly Hills' model jail.

Having spent weeks listening to numerous accounts of Miss Barry's travails, the jurors threw the book at the British pantomimist who ran a pair of baggy pants, a malacca cane and a sad smile into a multi-million dollar movie fortune.

The jurors named him as a violator of the Mann Act, because they said he transported Miss Barry across state lines for immoral purposes. They charged him with trying to use undue influence upon a judge who sentenced her to jail for vagrancy, and they accused him, the judge, himself, and several others with conspiring to deprive her of her civil rights.

The Mann Act counts said that Chaplin twice violated the law; that first, on Oct. 5, 1942, "he feloniously transported and caused to be transported Joan Barry from Los Angeles to the city of New York" for immoral purposes, and that second, he brought her back three weeks later. The disclosure of the trip to New York, presumably together, was a surprise in the chain of eye-poppers uncovered by the indictment. The junket had not been mentioned before and none of the principals had even intimated that the trip figured in the case.

Should the white-haired, 54-year-old Chaplin be found guilty on all counts, he could be subjected to a $15,000 fine, 15 years in federal prison, one year in county jail, and probable deportation to England as an undesirable alien.

BOWLING (By Jim Zeis) BASKETBALL

Great Lakes To Oppose DePauw

DePauw's Tigers, fresh from downing their tough cross-campus Naviator V-5 rivals and dropping a three-point game away to Kentucky's third ranking team nationally, will take on the nation's number one team here Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in Bowman Gymnasium as the Great Lakes Bluejackets invade the Tiger lair.

Coach Lloyd Messersmith's Tiger lost a 45 to 26 game to the Blue jackets at Great Lakes during an early season slump that cost them additional losses to Purdue and Indiana. Since the loss to Great Lake on December 22 the Tigers have lost only to Kentucky in winning eight or nine games, bringing their season record to 11 victories and five defeats.

The Tigers suffered a recurrent of their ailing slump during the first half of their clash with the DePauw Navigators, trailing at the hal 18 to 17, having hit only three out of 36 shots, but they came back strong in the second half to output the Navigators 26 to 11.

Undefeated, with seven straight Indiana conference victories, DePauw will have a chance to clinch the Indiana conference crown Thursday night, Feb. 17, when Wabash College plays here. The Tigers are still undefeated on their home floor this season.

Bowman Gymnasium was packed with nearly 3,000 fans for the DePauw Tiger DePauw V-5 clash, but plans are being made to accommodate additional spectators for Tuesday's game with the Bluejackets.

PUTNAM SOLDIER BOY'S PICTURE IN MAGAZINE

Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson of Madison township have discovered a full page picture of their son Kenneth, in the January 31 issue of Life magazine. It was taken on the battle field of Liri, and the reading matter accompanying the story said: "Yesterday's battle field is quiet in the morning sun as an American soldier washes his face with a handkerchief. In the shell-torn Liri valley tents have been pitched beside shell holes and shattered trees. Other marks of the war in Italy are the dead horses in the fields, gray patches of powder burns on the hill-sides, abandoned rifles and grenades in the bushes, thousands of fox holes, empty gun pits, rubbish heaps of German cans and crude graves of dead men. Even the old Italian cemeteries have been molested. The Germans use them for artillery positions."

The picture shows Kenneth kneeling before a metal wash-pan washing his face, but he knows his picture is being taken and he has a grin on his face and appears to be looking out one corner of his eyes.

Friends of Kenneth living in Clay county found and recognized the picture and sent it to the parents.

Sycamores Meet Casemen Monday

The powerful Indiana State basketball quintet, victors in 17 to 18 games played this season, will appear here next Monday night in Bowman gym to battle the Naval Flight School cadets in the last home game of the season for Lt. Everett N. Case's aggregation. Indiana State, coached by the wily Glenn Curtis, formerly of Martinsville, hold a 52 to 40 decision over the cadets in their first meeting at Terre Haute early in January.

After being edged out by the DePauw Tigers Wednesday night, the cadets will be in no mood to permit State to repeat the January performance. The cadets will be in quest of their eighteenth win of the season in this game and it will be a battle of Case vs. Curtis as the two clubs line up Monday night. One of the best battles of the year is on tap for Greencastle and Putnam county basketball fans.

Case and Curtis have turned out some of the best prep teams in the state at Frankfort and Martinsville in the past, Case tutoring four Frankfort teams to the state title, and Curtis producing three state winners at Martinsville. These two mentors often fought it out in the state tourney for the state championship.

The V-5 cadets had been coming along in good shape with wins over Bunker Hill, Valparaiso and Wabash in the past few weeks, but were handicapped by the absence of Cadet Tom Polun in their game with the Tigers. Polun will be out of action for the remainder of the season due to an ankle injury sustained in practice Monday. However, Lt. Case hopes to find a suitable replacement in time for the Indiana State fracas.
